One of Wetaskiwin's Industries

A representative of The Times had the pleasure of being shown through the works of the Wetaskiwin Planing Mills Co., Limited, one day this week and was agreeably surprised to find such a flourishing industry in our midst. Mr. W. A. Snider, the manager of the company, escorted us and showed us every courtesy, explaining the use for each of the many machines that are installed in the building, and proved the usefulness of the machinery by producing many and varied finished articles of woodwork that had just been completed.

The company, which took over the establishment only a few weeks ago, has already shown enterprise by having all the machinery thoroughly overhauled and repaired. A new fifty horse-power Waterous steam engine has been ordered and will arrive in a few days. Several other up-to-date, but very expensive, machines will also be installed shortly, which will make the plant second to none in Western Canada.

The officers of the company are: Mr. C. D. Algar, president; Mr. F. E. Algar, vice-president, and Mr. W. A. Snider, manager and secretary-treasurer. The company is being capitalized at $15,000. It will shortly become one of the leading industries of Central Alberta, as in a few weeks time at least twenty men will be given steady employment, which means that $2000 will be expended in the city every month. A traveller will be on the road to canvass the towns north and south, and also on the lines east of Wetaskiwin and Lacombe. The machinery, which consists of turning lathes, moulding machine, buzz and band saws, planing machine, shapers, rippers, pony planers, etc., etc., are all comparatively new and when purchased were the best and latest obtainable. As soon as the new engine arrives an alteration will be made in the building and an addition erected with painting and drying rooms upstairs.

The company is prepared to handle orders for all kinds of woodwork and as only the most competent employees will be engaged, every piece of work is guaranteed. No article is too large or intricate to be handled and those desiring woodwork of the finest quality and best workmanship should consult Mr. Snider. The company is already overrun with orders, having many more on hand than can be promptly filled, but none of the work will be slighted to overtake the congested condition. Delay is being experienced by the slow arrival of stock, but this will be remedied in a few days as several carloads of material are on the way.

The citizens of Wetaskiwin are pleased to see industries established here and extend the welcome hand to The Wetaskiwin Planing Mills Co., realizing that it is one of the most desirable and necessary manufacturing industries that could locate here, and the members of the firm can rest assured that they will receive every assistance and encouragement possible from their hands.

The Revelstoke Sawmill Co., Ltd., which recently purchased the lumber yard near the electric light power house, now has everything in good shape for the transaction of business. Very large shipments of everything required in the building material line have been placed in stock, where it can be easily reached by the customer. A large new mill has just been commenced and there is no danger of shortage in the supply of material. This firm is one of the largest lumber dealers on the continent, having established branches at nearly all the leading points in Western Canada. Mr. D. Sutherland is the manager of the Wetaskiwin branch, and the public will find him a most courteous and obliging gentleman.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Tomlin are pleased to learn that their youngest child, which was seriously ill last week, is now recovering nicely.

E. O. Windsor, the expert piano tuner, has been in the city for over a week. He will return in about another month.

Wetaskiwin will shortly have another industry in a steam laundry which O. E. Tomlin will establish as soon as the necessary machinery arrives from the east. He has almost decided to erect a building on his lot near the skating rink, and locate the laundry there.

Mr. J. McLeod, who has had charge of the dry goods department in Messrs. Compton & Montgomery's store for some months, leaves on Saturday for Vancouver, B. C., where he has accepted a lucrative position in one of the largest stores in that city. He will be accompanied on his journey to the coast by Mrs. McLeod and also by Miss McLeod and Miss Johnstone, who have been visiting here for some time.

Indians of U. S. Heading for Alberta

Denver, Col., June 6—Dissatisfied with the government management of the Uintah reservation about 500 Indians have assembled at Vernal, twenty-five miles north of the reservation, and are awaiting the opening of the mountain passes to the north, declaring that they will flee from Uncle Sam's control and take refuge in Alberta, under the British flag, if they have to fight their way.

Meantime they are engaging in war dances day and night and arming themselves as rapidly as they can secure weapons. They disposed of all property saleable and have burned the houses of the reservation, wagons, harnesses, household good an other personal property.

DISTRICT NEWS

Gathered by our wide-awake Correspondents.

Silver Creek.

We are sorry to lose Miss Mae Cole from our midst but we wish her every success in her work. A large number of friends met at Mrs. Ellingson's where they spent a very enjoyable time until the wee small hours of the morning. The party was given as a farewell to Mae.

Cream separators are quite the rage around Silver Creek. Mrs. Lavange, Mrs. Ellingston, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Cartier and Mrs. Granger being the happy possessors of one. It is understood that they intend patronizing the creameries

We did not see any of Earling young folks at Silver Creek last week, although we had a revival last Thursday night that revived about fifty of our young folks.

Wal now, Dried Meat Lake, you may ease your mind and don't be at all worried about our getting entangled in that cable. There is plenty of water around Silver Creek.

But dew tell, have you seen any long tailed comets around there lately.

We are pleased to be able to inform South Dried Meat that Bingo has been supplied with another set of teeth. We think that is the reason why the Camrose gent only made his appearance once on the scene

Mr Johnson's team ran away last Thursday. The horses escaped without any serious injuries, although they ran through two wire fences. The buggy received considerable damage.

Mr. and Mrs Adams and family were in Camrose last Saturday.

Lyle Rowe drove through these parts last Sunday. He had company with him so we are not uneasy about his not being able to find his way back to Camrose.

Arthur Rowe was calling at Mr. Cole's last Sunday.

Confirmation was held in New Norway school house, Sunday, Anna Lavange and Elmer Ellingson being those of the class from around here.

School was closed Thursday and Friday on account of the teacher wishing to attend the teacher's convention at Wetaskiwin.

Mary Ellingson spent Friday night and Saturday with Mae Cole

Mr. and Mrs. Yates and daughter went to town Monday where they will spend a few days visiting.

The farmers around here have all finished seeding and have no hay to haul as yet.

Mr. White's brother, who spent a few days visiting here, left this week for Edmonton.

Camrose

It transpired that on the 8th of this month a load consisting of some of the most prominent business men of Camrose started for Dried Meat Hill to attend a picnic. When about half way there some alteration took place among them, when one gave the other the lie, whereupon the team was stopped the party disembarked to settle the affair and judging from the number of bottles left on the ground where the affray took place it was settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. However, they proceeded to the picnic and all seemed quite happy on their return about three o'clock in the morning.

Earling

H. Hendrick, C. Erlandson and their families Sundayed at Bray's.

The 2nd of July is being talked of a great deal. A grand celebration is in view.

C. Fodnes was fortunate in recovering his horses near Camrose.

Alex. Hellekson has built his house up much higher and improved it with a shingle roof. There is no hurry yet, Alex.

The mail is coming on Friday and going on Saturday. This is more convenient than before. Mr. Sherrin is the accommodating carrier of it.

School will close next Tuesday for the summer vacation. The new school house will be completed for the fall term if the C. P. R. will allow a school site.

We are sorry to learn that we won't get The Times until the week following publication owing to the change of the mail

The first thunder storm of this season occurred here on Monday. Some rain fell also.

Every body seems to be fencing a great deal this spring.

The "Willing Workers" will meet with Mrs. H. O. Bray next time.

Lars Thune returned from Wetaskiwin on Friday.

Mr. Nelson and Miss Larson, both of Scona, were united in marriage last week. Their host of friends wish them unbounded happiness and prosperity through life's long journey.

Messrs. Jacobson and Stenerud are doing a great deal of breaking this spring.

A large railroad grading outfit passed through here last week.

Mr. Pearce has a position at Osmundson's.

Mr. Sulurud and Miss Bergue, both of Earling, were united in marriage last week.

Lars Johnson bruised his leg badly last week. He is "the man with crutches" these days.

... FOR ...
Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Stomach Cramps and all Summer Complaints take

Don't experiment with new and untried remedies, but procure that which has stood the test of time. Dr. Fowler's has stood the test for 60 years, and has never failed to give satisfaction. It is rapid, reliable and effectual in its action and does not leave the bowels constipated. REFUSE ALL SUBSTITUTES. THEY'RE DANGEROUS.

Mrs. Brooks of Lusk, Aylmer, Que., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for Diarrhoea for several years past and I find it is the only medicine which brings relief in so short a time."

It uses the heat while the heat's hot

One-way fire travel, in this right furnace, means the heat moves in one direction—not through a maze of sections; and THAT means you get the heat's good—all of it, in clean, HOT heat. Most furnaces don't give up the heat till it's lukewarm.

Oxford Warm air Furnace burns any fuel

Your fuel bills will be less next winter, your house amply warmer, once you see what this furnace really will save. Burns any fuel that's really fuel, and gets all the good out of all it does burn. PERFECT combustion—Oxford three-sided grate-bars, built hollow, assure that. They burn a lot of AIR, that's why. Easy to repair them, too—take out any one and disturb no other. Extra big feed-door makes it easy to use rough, big, cheap fuel—that's a saving worth your while. Specially big ash-pit, needn't clean it but once in out so often.

Let us send you a book that tells why this is the furnace you want to heat your house next winter. Or come and look over this right furnace,—come, and see the very little—see its unusual economy points, its strong construction,—built to last many years and to save money every day it's used. See it—you really ought.

"Canada First" for June

The June number of "Canada First" contains a wealth of typically Canadian material. A strong feature is "A Straight Talk to Americans." This up-to-date magazine enters the financial arena also by a continuation of its articles calling for an investigation of our Canadian banks. One serial story approaches its conclusion and there are also several complete short tales. There are some good illustrations, including views of Niagara and interesting spots in the Rocky mountains, and altogether the number is an excellent one.

The subscription to this magazine is only $1.00 per year. The offices are at 43 Scott St., Toronto.

Norris Rowe Circus

When the Greater Norris & Rowe Circus exhibits here they have planned a street display in which the spectacular and picturesque will predominate. Of the parade, a brilliant writer who witnessed it recently says: Shrieking his rollicking roundelay, a monster marched through the town; he woke the echoes, disturbed the peace and shouted defiance at the police, he frightened the horses, annoyed the dogs and even the autos trembled; but the youngsters rejoiced at the din he made and followed his way with glee, as youngsters have done since in Hamelin-town another piper of high renown created havoc across the sea. So latter day children are wont to be entraced by the singing cal-l-o-p-e. If calendar makers could secure more definite and certain information, I've no doubt circus day would be numbered in red as are the fourth of July and other national holidays. Such an innovation would certainly add to the interest of the calender maker's plots and increase their circulation; for surely and certainly the circus procession has an important place in the procession of the equinoxes. There may be bigger shows than Norris & Rowe's, but certainly none better. There is a set formula for modern circuses, and one which, departed from, it would fail for want of patronage. They may vary somewhat in form and quantity, but in spirit they must follow tradition." The Norris & Rowe enterprise is properly conducted and it offers all the esthetic thrills and delights we demand of a circus. The Show bears a good name and their trade mark stands for honesty of purpose and progressiveness. It a person cannot get his or her money's worth with this circus, they are indeed hard to please. The shows will exhibit at Wetaskiwin Wednesday June 20th.

BABY RATTLESNAKES.

The fallacies surrounding the rattlesnake begin with the very coming of the reptile. Many suppose that, like the garter snake, the bull snake, the members of the "racer" family and our other nonpoisonous snakes, the rattlesnake is hatched in broods numbering from forty to eighty. Not so. Rattlesnakes are born into the world, as are all members of the viperoid family, in litters numbering from seven to twelve.

Between the middle of July and the middle of August the babies appear. Lively, self reliant, dangerous little fellows they are, fourteen inches long, no thicker than a lead pencil, marked like the adult snakes and provided with a single button at the end of the tail, the first link in the series of rattles to be developed, ring by ring, with each shedding of the skin.

Motionless, eyes gleaming, the long mother lies extended across the back of a sand hummock beneath the fanlike leaf of a dwarf palmetto, glaring coldly at her active, squirming babies. For a brief half hour she tarries; then she drags herself away, for from the first moment a young rattler enters the world he is independent of his mother and eminently able to shift for himself. Each young snake is a full fledged rattler, ready to hunt and ready to defend himself with the sting of death. Each flat, triangular little head is provided with the long, sharp poison fangs containing the identical venom of the mother snake.

THREE GREAT AMERICANS.

A Glimpse of Emerson, Thoreau and Hawthorne.

Mrs. Rebecca Harding Davis says in her "Bits of Gossip" that Emerson as she met him in Concord in 1862 was a typical Yankee in appearance: "The tall, gaunt man with the watchful, patient face and slightly dazed eyes, his hands clasped behind his back, that came slowly down the shady village street toward the Wayside that summer day was Uncle Sam himself in ill fitting brown clothes. I have often wondered that none of his biographers have noticed the likeness."

Emerson said to Mrs. Davis: "I wish Thoreau had not died before you came. He was an interesting study." She asked why, and after a moment he replied: "Henry often reminded me of an animal in human form. He had the eye of a bird, the scent of a dog, the most acute, delicate intelligence, but no soul. No," he repeated, shaking his head with decision, "Henry could not have had a human soul."

Mrs. Davis remarks on Hawthorne's shyness and on his love of seclusion, which indeed was a family trait: "Personally he was a rather short, powerfully built man, gentle and low voiced, with a sly, elusive humor gleaming sometimes in his watchful gray eyes. The portrait with which we are all familiar, a curled barber shop head, gives no idea of the singular, melancholy charm of his face. There was a mysterious power in it which I have never seen elsewhere in picture, statue or human being."

Verdi Paid the Bill.

When "Aida" was first played at Milan an amateur living at some distance came to hear it, but was disappointed. To make sure he tried it the second time, with the same result, whereupon he wrote to the composer complaining of having been put to considerable expense on his account for nothing and inclosing a bill for thirty-two lire, with a request for the money. Among the items was one of two lire for a "detestable supper." Verdi deducted this on the ground that he might have had supper at home, but forwarded the balance on condition that his correspondent signed a formal agreement not to go and hear the opera again, which agreement was strictly fulfilled.

The Horse During the Middle Ages.

The importance of the horse during the middle ages, especially in the crusades and in the tournaments which followed in the wake of the crusades, is significant. Fully half the glamor and romance that surrounded the knight belonged to the horse, for without the horse those daring deeds in behalf of the weak and suffering had never been done. The horse, however, has had his reward, for the best feature of the middle age, outside the church, is closely identified with his name, lasting traces of which are seen in the noble word "chivalry."

The Mighty Hunter.

"Yes," says our host, "this is the skin of a grizzly bear that I shot in the tropics."

"But," we suggest gently, "grizzly bears are only found in Colorado and localities in that latitude."

"I know," he replies proudly. "But I chased this fellow clean out of this country and shot him at last. I was clean out of breath when I got within range of him too."

Didn't Know "the Uncle."

Aunt Jane—I guess Mr. Spender must be a very neat person. Edith—And what leads you to that opinion? Aunt Jane—He told your Uncle George all his clothes but those upon his back were hung up. Some men, you know, throw their things round anywhere.

A Nice Distinction.

Medium—Do you wish to see your departed husband's spirits? Mrs. Whiffletree—No, I want to see his ghost. Josh never had no spirit.

Every time a man smiles—and, much more, when he laughs—it adds something to his fragment of life.—Sterne.

The largest shipment of fat stock in the the history of Ponoka was made last week. It numbered 243 head and was valued at $12,200.

Hamilton, Ont., June 8.—A tornado hit this city late this afternoon and did a hundred thousand dollars worth of damage. Trees were uprooted, many houses unroofed, and a sailboat containing twenty persons missing.

OWLS IN WINTER.

Where They Hide and How They Manage to Get Food.

Owls are much commoner in winter than one is led to believe by the occasional specimens which are seen abroad in the daytime. If we searched the hollow trees systematically any morning, we should probably discover several screech owls and perhaps some of the larger species. We might be surprised to find some of the screech owls red and others gray, and, like the early ornithologists, we might conclude that the difference in color was due to difference in age or sex. It is now known that there are two distinct color phases of this species not dependent on either age or sex, though just what they are dependent on is not yet known.

When taken from their retreats in winter, these birds frequently feign death, shutting their eyes and lying perfectly still in the hand. By and by, when they find that their little ruse does not succeed, they will snap their bills and bite and scratch in a solemn but very effective manner. How they manage to get enough to eat on the dark, cold nights is a mystery to those unacquainted with the woods; but, as a matter of fact, there is more prey abroad on winter nights than is generally supposed. Wild mice are very numerous, a fact which is attested by their footprints on the newly fallen snow, and owls are most expert mouse catchers. Their hearing is so acute that not a squeak escapes them, and they themselves are so soft on the wing that they do not alarm the game.—Woman's Home Companion.

He Won His Bet.

The infant had been put to bed against his will, and, having got there, showed no inclination to go to sleep. He called his mother in to kiss her good night once more, to give him a glass of water, to put another cover on the bed, to tell her something very important, to ask her how to spell North Carolina and to explain why he happened to be her little boy instead of Aunt Bertha's. Finally she rebelled.

"You simply must go to sleep," she commanded sternly. "I shall not come into the room again tonight." She retired to the next room, and before long he called her.

"No, I'm not coming. Nothing will induce me to come to you again."

"I'll bet I can make you come," boasted the youngster.

"I'll bet you can't," replied the exasperated parent.

There was a pause, and then the small voice, raised to its utmost, exclaimed, "The devil and all his works!"

He won his bet.—New York Post.

Leeches as Weather Prophets.

A common leech makes a good barometer. Fill a tumbler half full of water, put the leech into it and tie a piece of muslin over the top to keep the leech from getting out. All you have to do to find out what sort of weather we are going to have is to watch the little creature. For example, when the day is to be fine the leech will remain at the bottom of the glass, coiled up in spiral shape and quite motionless. If rain may be expected, it will creep to the top of the glass and stay there until it clears off. If the leech twists itself and is very restless, there is going to be a windstorm. If it keeps out of the water for several days, look out for a thunderstorm. The indications for frosty weather are the same as for fine and for snow are the same as for rain.

Use Newspaper.

Your great man shines before the populace in vain—without the newspaper. He passed eagles, the constitution in vain—without the newspaper. His clarion voice wakes up the universe in vain—without the newspaper. His most astounding financial enterprises serve him in vain—without the newspaper. His celestific researches and achievements are in vain—without the newspaper. His success in every walk of life is in vain—without the newspaper. The newspaper is the fauncmaster of the age. Of course, some of the fame is cheap, but it satisfies the living weaver of the cloak even though posterity charge it.

Broken on the Wheel.

The most general punishment for criminals condemned to death in the eighteenth century was the wheel. The victim was laid out and bound to a large wheel, the executioner breaking the bones of his arms, legs and thighs with a heavy iron bar, his dexterous manipulation of which was always applauded by the crowd. In recompense for his unthankful task he received a fee of 25 livres.

Dumas' Suggestion.

A melancholy author went to Dumas and moaned that if he did not raise 300 francs he was afraid he would have to charcoal smoke himself and his two children. Dumas rummaged his coffers at once, but could only find 200 francs. "But I must have 300 or I and the little ones are lost." "Suppose you only suffocate yourself and one of them then," said Dumas.

The Rhymester and the Poet.

Ascum—Well, then, what is the difference between a rhymester and a poet?

Newitt—Usually a poet is one who calls himself a rhymester, and a rhymester is one who calls himself a poet.

Making Sure.

Softleigh—Are you quite sure Miss Banks is not in?

The Maid—Of course I am. She gave me one of your photographs in order to make me doubly sure.—Chicago News.

To be good and disagreeable is high treason against the royalty of virtue.—Moore.

The scandalous conditions under which meat is handled in the great packing houses of the United States, as revealed in the investigation commission's report just issued, have started English and European consumers and the result is a revulsion of feeling in favor of Canadian products. This is Canada's opportunity and every advantage should be taken of it.

Burdock Blood Bitters CURES Dyspepsia, Boils, Pimples, Headaches, Constipation, Loss of Appetite, Bad Rheum, Erysipelas, Scrofula, and all troubles arising from the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood.

Mrs. A. Lethangue, of Radford, Que., writes: "I believe I would have been in my grave long ago if it had not been for Burdock Blood Bitters. I was run down in spirit to such an extent that I could scarcely attend to the duties about the house. I was subject to severe headaches, backaches and dizziness; my appetite was gone and I was unable to do my housework. After using two bottles of B.B.B. I found my health fully restored. I warmly recommend it to all tired and worn out women.

Thursday Jun. 14 1906

On Friday last there was brought to the Strathcona hospital a young man, Joseph Heavenor by name, a rancher from Buffalo Lake, suffering from serious injuries the result of a contest with an unbroken broncho. He died on Saturday from his wounds.

Communication

We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or any other correspondent under this heading.—[Ed.]

To the Editor of The Times:

Dear Sir,—As the post office department has now changed the day of sending the mail out to this district, I will ask you to be good enough to take my name off your subscription list at once. My reason for so doing is this: Your paper is printed on Thursday of each week and sent out to Camrose on Friday. By the old service our mail was taken from Camrose on Saturday morning and arrived here on Saturday evening, giving us the news of the week in very good time. Now the new service comes in as follows: Leaves Camrose on Friday morning for Lake De May, Round Hill, Earling, Scona and Vermillion Valley post offices, leaving all our weekly papers and our letters all of a week in Camrose. As the people of this district are looking for a fair chance to be in touch with all outside affairs, the papers that are from eight to ten days old are not considered worth reading. This is my reason for asking you to take my name from your list of subscribers.

Apart from the above, as a business way of looking at the matter we are simply not in it. If I had a draft to meet in the bank I must either mail my letter a couple of weeks ahead or send a private courier with it to the bank.

Our outgoing mail has to stay in Camrose from Saturday until Tuesday before it gets to Wetaskiwin. By the old service it arrived in Camrose on Friday evening and left on Saturday morning for the south.

The only way to give this part of Alberta and the line of post offices to be served from Camrose a fair deal, is to run a line of stages across to Vegreville. By that system we would get two mails a week. One from Wetaskiwin and Camrose, the other from Vegreville.

Hoping, Mr. Editor, that I am not taking up too much of your valuable space, I am, Yours truly, SUBSCRIBER.

[We publish the above letter that the public may see some of the hardships the newspaper man has to put up with. It seems to us that the postal department should at once investigate the service complained of and speedily remedy such an unsatisfactory arrangement. A very large settlement now inhabits the districts referred to above and they are entitled to a much better mail service than they are now receiving.—ED.]

The only nourishment that bread affords is that which the flour contains.

Bread baking is merely putting flour in appetising form.

Flour making is merely putting the nutritious part of wheat in shape for bread making.

Good milling is the kind that takes from the wheat all that is nutritious, nothing else.

Storm at The Hat

Medicine Hat, June 10.—The worst rain and wind storm in years has swept this part of the country for the past four days. Miles of track were washed out, and transcontinental trains were delayed here for many hours. Through the country south of Red Deer to the border floods are threatened. More water has fallen than in years. The Agricultural situation is immensely improved, however, and many acres of winter wheat thought to be dead have revived. The yield promises fair.

Daysland

On Wednesday evening, June 9th, at the home of the bride's parents, Dayaland, a quiet wedding took place. The contracting parties were Calvin Wallace Quillon and Miss Hattie McKay, youngest daughter of Mr. Thomas McKay. The ceremony was performed by the local minister, Rev. R. E. Finlay, in the presence of immediate friends and relatives. Both bride and groom come recently from Kansas and have land out in tp. 41 R. 10. The groom wisely decided not to go baching. We wish them true happiness and prosperity.

Mrs. Lushman (stornly)—Well, sir, how do you feel this morning?

Mr. Lushman (unsteadily)—Oh, all right. Of course I'm a little hoarse this morning, but—

Mrs. Lushman (Witheringly)—How odd! You were a big jackass last night.

WHAT Fruit-a-tives or "Fruit Liver Tablets" ARE

Fruit-a-tives are the marvels of modern medicine. They have accomplished more actual cures—done more good to more people—than any other medicine ever introduced in Canada for the time they have been on sale.

Fruit-a-tives are fruit juices. They are nature's cure for

—CONSTIPATION
—BILIOUSNESS
—BAD STOMACH
—HEADACHES
—IMPURE BLOOD
—SKIN DISEASES
—KIDNEY TROUBLE
—RHEUMATISM
—IRRITATED HEART

Fruit-a-tives are the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes. These juices are concentrated—and by a secret process, the juices are combined in a peculiar manner. This new combination is much more active medicinally than fresh juices—yet so perfect is the union that Fruit-a-tives act on the system as if they were in truth a natural fruit, medicinally stronger than any other known fruit.

To this combination of fruit juices, tonics and internal antiseptics are added, and the whole made into tablets.

These are Fruit-a-tives—sold everywhere for 50c a box or 6 boxes for $2.50.

News Notes

Montreal, June 9.—It is reported that the Canadian Pacific Railway is preparing to build another line through the Rocky Mountains at a point north of the present route through the Kicking Horse Pass, and that work will commence on this line without delay. The story goes that the new route will be through the Yellow Head Pass, which is about 300 miles north of Kicking Horse Pass, and which is the best railway route through the mountains. The C. P. R. does not confirm the report that it has secured the right of way through the Yellow Head and has engineers on the field making preliminary surveys.

Regina, June 7—The Board of Trade tonight passed a resolution favoring a street railway system and municipal telephone lines.

On Friday, June 15, the people of Medicine Hat will be asked to vote on money by-laws which aggregate $120,000. The amount will be split up into one thousand dollar thirty year debentures, bearing interest at 5 per cent. The money is required for the following purposes: $10,000 for furnishing new city hall; $8,000 for extention of natural gas system; $10,000 for erection of a stand pipe, installation of waterworks mains. The balance will be expended on construction of a sewerage system and the building of concrete walks.

No mail was received from the south on Saturday owing to a washout near Medicine Hat on the C. P. R. main line.

Penoka, June 8—C. D. Alger has been authorized by the Dominion to act in the interests of immigration to Alberta in the States of Iowa and Michigan. He will spend some months in this work, leaving for the east about June 15.

The C. N. R. bridge at Fort Saskatchwan, erected at a cost of $300,000, will be completed in ten days. The immense concrete piers are a monument to the constructors' skill. It is a fine structure.

Edmonton homestead entries for May were 553, compared with 239 the month last year.

The announcement made some days ago by the C. P. R. that a change had taken place in their plans regarding the Moose Jaw-Edmonton line comes as a surprise and as a great disappointment to the people of Moose Jaw city and especially to the new settlers scattered along the proposed route of the road for 75 or 100 miles. The first plans of the C. P. R. were to construct this line to Edmonton via Lacombe, thus giving the company the most direct line from the Alberta capital to St. Paul. Twenty miles of the Moose Jaw end was constructed and operated last fall. It now appears that further construction has been indefinitely postponed. The Lacombe end of this line will connect with the line running northwest from a point near Medicine Hat.—Moose Jaw Times.

The customs department has issued the following new regulations Settlers may bring into Canada free of duty all live stock necessary for farm purposes. If horses only are brought in, 16 will be allowed. If cattle only are brought in 16 will be allowed, if sheep 60 allowed, if swine 60 allowed. If horses, cattle, sheep and swine are brought in together, or part of each, the same proportions are to be observed. Duty is to be paid on all live stock in excess of the above number provided for.

Greatest Camp in the World

Dawson, June 7.—Tests just made here by a company headed by T. G. Wilson show that the white channel tailings and disintegrated white channel is charged with gold. The miners have been throwing this away for years in the belief that it was worthless, but it can be saved by cyanide process, yielding $4 a ton and upwards, outdoing the Rand and other great reefs. It is claimed that this great discovery should quadruple the Klondike's output and make it the greatest camp in the world.

Teachers Instructed and Entertained

Friday and Saturday, June 8 and 9, a branch of the Alberta Teachers' Institute was held in the Alexandra school. The rain of Thursday evening and the following morning made many believe a poor attendance would result, but the numbers who arrived by noon and on the afternoon trains soon dispelled this illusion. In the neighborhood of fifty registered for the various sessions.

Messrs. Bryan and McCaig, principal and vice-principal of Calgary normal school, were the conductors. Of the inspectors Messrs. Ross and Thibadeau were present.

Papers on history, composition and literature were given by Mr. Bryan. Mr. McCaig took up number work, geography and nature study. After each lecture discussion took place and difficulties were explained.

Many new text-books in history and nature study were submitted to the gathering for inspection. Some are excellent works and it is hoped they will be authorized.

On Friday evening the city teachers held a reception made up of a promenade concert, a program of instrumentals, songs and five-minute speeches, ending with refreshments and the national anthem.

Mrs. H. J. Montgomery and Misses Knight, Dudgeon and Swanson proved most efficient musicians for the promenading.

Miss Dudgeon, Mrs. H. J. Montgomery and Messrs. Ward and Hogg sang most acceptably. Humorous and beneficial speeches were given by Messrs. Bryan, McCaig, Ross and Fowler and Rev. Mr. Corneille. Miss Knight delighted the gathering with an instrumental.

Everyone was well pleased with the evening's entertainment. However, it accounted for the lateness of quite a number at Saturday morning's session of the Institute.

The majority of the visiting teachers returned home on Saturday, but the remainder did not leave until Sunday or Monday.

Victor Mattson, of north-east of Camrose, was a welcome caller at The Times office on Monday. He claims that his district is one of the garden spots of Central Alberta. He purchased two teams of mares while in the city.

Communication

We do not necessarily endorse the sentiments advanced by this or any other correspondent under this heading.—[Ed.]

To the Editor of The Times:

Dear Sir,—I notice a number of our public spirited citizens are now taking active steps for the establishment of a public hospital for our city and district, and probably a few suggestions might not be out of place at this time.

A public hospital, as every citizen well knows, is one of the greatest necessities of our city. It is an object that everybody should become deeply interested in, and work their utmost to bring about its institution at as early a date as possible. Especially now as we have by our own seeking obtained the high-sounding title of a "city" it would look extremely out of place for us to send the sick of our city and the surrounding community needing expert medical care to an hospital in an outside town.

I would suggest that an Hospital Committee be selected by our citizens at once, to consist of representatives of the City Council, Board of Trade, churches, Salvation Army and the fraternal societies, and that subscription lists be issued asking donations for the cause. The city could possibly make a grant of some land, besides giving an annual grant to the funds. The churches could hold special services in aid of the hospital and take up special offerings. The friendly societies could either make annual donations or furnish cots. The farmers also I do not think for a moment would be backward in aiding the cause, and what with the proceeds of a number of entertainments that could be given by the young people of our city, together with the government grant, public subscriptions, city grant, etc., would easily provide the ways and means for the establishment of a first-class city hospital.

Another suggestion I would make is this, that a "cottage hospital" would at first meet the requirements of our city, and this could be established in the meantime at very little cost, until a more pretentious edifice could be erected.

Now, Mr. Editor, let every one of us get busy, and commence the hospital campaign with a "Hospital Sunday," and have a day set apart for this purpose when a parade of the City Council and officials, Board of Trade, friendly societies, Salvation Army and the different church leagues, headed by our own band, to the fair grounds, where speeches and a religious service in aid of the hospital funds can be held, and also special services be held in the different churches both morning and evening, the offerings to be devoted to the cause. The Ladies' Aids, Willing Workers and other Ladie's Church Guilds can also be important factors in the success of the movement.

Faithfully yours,

FRANCIS B. LINDEN.

Public School Board Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the public school board was held on Tuesday evening with Mr. J. W. Fowler and Messrs F. E. Kelly and W. W. Sharpe present.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and adopted.

The report of Inspector Ross was read. It was highly satisfactory, the inspector being well pleased with the school building, the equipment, grounds, etc. All the teachers were highly commended for the excellent work they are accomplishing, but it was recommended that more attention be given to writing.

J. B. Anderson, who has moved out of the district, tendered his resignation as a member of the board, which was accepted with the very deepest regret. Mr. Anderson was considered one of the most reliable members and while the Alexander school was being erected his practical knowledge was invaluable and his advice was generally taken on all matters, and to him is due much of the credit for the handsome educational edifice that graces Wetaskiwin today.

The chairman informed the board that the Lacombe school district had almost unanimously decided to erect a $30,000 school, and that the Lacombe Board was desirous of studying our plans and specifications. On motion it was resolved that the plans and specifications be sent to them for their consideration.

The question of teachers' salaries was then considered. It was pointed out that Miss Moore, the assistant principal, was not receiving the remuneration her labors warranted. It was therefore resolved that she be offered $850 as next year's salary.

As Mr. Irvine was performing very efficient and satisfactory work his salary was also increased from $3 to $4 a day for the time he has charge of the school.

It was also resolved, on motion of Mr. Sharp that $15 25, the amount of expenses incurred in connection with the Teacher's Institute be paid.

The matter of sowing grass seed on the school grounds was left entirely in the hands of Mr. Kelly.

It was reported that Mr. Kling was desirous of selling the lot adjoining the school grounds for $350. The secretary was instructed to see Mr. Kling and close a deal if possible.

Meeting adjourned.

Mr. G. R. Taylor is to be congratulated upon the artistic manner in which he had the electric lights arranged in the banquet room on Tuesday evening of last week. Altogether 110 lamps were in use.

Strathcona, Alta., June 8.—Yesterday afternoon Robert Burkett, a coal miner in the mine of the Strathcona Coal Co., in the west end of the city, was killed by a cave in of the room in which he was working. He was alone at the time the accident occurred and it was some time before his companions discovered what had happened. Before they could dig him out life was extinct, in fact death was instantaneous as it was found that his neck was broken. Burkett was an experienced miner, but too risky, as he had worked twelve feet ahead of his timbers when the room fell.

The Wetaskiwin Rifles

A meeting will be held at the Driard hotel on Friday, the 15th inst., at 8.30 p. m., for the organization of the Wetaskiwin Rifle Association. Arrangements are being made so that intending members may be sworn in that evening, the officers elected and other important business transacted so that no delay may possibly occur in the carrying out of the details of the association.

It is understood that weekly drills will most likely commence on Thursday evening, the 22nd inst. The Wetaskiwin Band will in all probability be associated with the Rifle Association, and the likelihood of a weekly open-air band concert being held is not at all remote if the necessary assistance can be obtained.

Mrs. O. T. Thompson, and son left on Wednesday for Barrie, Ont., to renew acquaintances. She has not been in robust health for some time, and will consult some eminent members of the medical profession before her return.

The Wetaskiwin brass band made its first appearance on Tuesday of last week and surprised and delighted the citizens with the good music provided. With more practice and experience the boys will have a band second to none in the province.
